

Celebrating Innovations

Order now and get a FREE iPod Touch

This year Ocean Optics has developed many new products, like the UV sensitive Maya, the optical transmittance spectrophotometer \(OTS\), the new VIS-NIR fluorescence probe and of course the revolutionary Jaz.

To celebrate this innovative step forward, we will give away a FREE iPod Touch with every order above 4000 Euro.

On the iPod Touch, we will include the "Spectroscopy TV" video tutorials. "Spectroscopy TV" contains a collection of tutorials designed to help new Ocean Optics customers set up, calibrate and use their spectrometers for a variety of applications. Episodes are also dedicated to demonstrating SpectraSuite spectroscopy software.

Order now and get all recent training videos on an iPod Touch.
This promotion is valid for all orders received before December 31st 2008.
